KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing that it would involve the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of gold and silver for coinage, provided always that a dollar in coin be made practically as valuable as a dollar in the paper.

We favor a tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus insuring good wages to the laborer and a home market to the producer; and in connection with this we favor the establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity.

We believe that such a system will defray every Government expense, gradually liquidate all our debts, restore public confidence and relieve the people of the burden of taxation without prejudice to the currency. In view of the past financial history of the Democratic party, its devotion to the old state bank system and selfish favoritism, we affirm that the Republican party can be more safely trusted to regulate the financial system of the Nation.

We favor an American policy which will protect Americans and American interests in any part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than tyrannical monarchies.

Mrs. A. Worick Paralyzed.
Mrs. Mary Worick, wife of Mr. Alfred Worick, was stricken with paralysis yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at her home, and up to a late hour last night had not recovered consciousness. Her condition this morning is no better, and there are no hopes of her recovery.

Amusements.
Everybody's favorite, the bright and charming little comedienne, Cora Van Tassel, supported by William Stuart and an excellent company will appear at the Opera house on Monday evening next, September 24th, in her new and powerful play by Scott Marble, "Tennessee Parader." The play will be produced with special scenery.

We are manufacturers and save you the middle profit. Call and get our prices.
PROGRESS SMOKE STORES.

Mr. Charles B. Davis of the Fifth Ward is announced in today's LEDGER as a candidate for City Assessor, and respectfully solicits your influence and support.

Mrs. M. A. Knight, age 64, died at her home in Washington at consumption at 3 p. m. Wednesday. Funeral at the Christian Church in Washington at 3 p. m. Thursday. Interment at Washington Cemetery.

The Mason County Institute for the colored teachers commenced today in the schoolhouse, corner Fifth and Market, and will continue through the remainder of the week. Superintendent Blatterman presiding. Professor J. W. Jackson promoter. The public invited.

A GOOD TEAM.

And the Game Promises to be First-class Today.

The Mayville team left this morning over the C. and O. for Cincinnati, together with a large crowd of "rooters." If there's anything in the presence of ladies that will help the team to win, they'll do it today sure, as a goodly number of them went along on the special train.

There were about thirty got on at Ripley and a good many more at Augusta.

Stout and Kehoe will be the Mayville battery, while the Reds will try the best they have in the rock, whatever and whoever that is. There's nothing to discourage the boys, as the team is a good one, and all they have to do, is to play ball.

SHORT STOPS.

The Portsmouth Blade said well when it uttered these few words:

"If Cincinnati would pick up some good $50 a month pitcher and let Tom Parrott play in the field or on his corner while, maybe Manager Ban- ston would not have so many occasions for tears. There are dead oodles of pitchers in this state who can pitch as well as Parrott."

Elisha Gill talked too much with his mouth, and the fine was $2 and costs.

The brick work on the new schoolhouse in the Fifth Ward will be finished today.

Minnie Smith, for using abusive language, was fined $2 and costs by Judge Wadsworth.

Colonel W. W. Baldwin was kicked Monday by a colt, sustaining a severe injury to one of his legs.

Rev. William Stanley has resigned as Pastor of the Flemingsburg Christian Church. He preached his last sermon Sunday night.

Mr. William P. Lindsay and Miss Beattie Strode will wed today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Strode, at Lewisburg.

Emma Smith let her tongue get away with too many big anti-Sunday-school words, and it took $2 and costs to satisfy the Police Judge and the law.

The Woman's Union Prayer-service will not be held as usual this week, owing to the Y. P. S. C. E. Convention at the Central Presbyterian Church.

A decision of the Nebraska Supreme Court sustained the A. P. A. Board of Fire and Police Commissioners in Omaha. The new board at once made a large number of removals.

C. C. Richardson of Cincinnati and Miss Ola Wheeler of this city were married at the former place yesterday. So says a telegram received by Mr. John Wheeler, father of the bride.

Ida Page was passing when a six-year-old white child called her a "black nig" and Ida returned the compliment by calling the little one a "son-of-a-bitch." For which Squire Bramel fined her $5 and costs.

Miss Ida Holt, who visited her brother, Rev. D. P. Holt of this city last winter, was married yesterday at Louisville, Ky. to Dr. Fred D. Marcum of Centerville, W. Va. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. P. Holt.

Elisha Green, tried yesterday morning before Squire Bramel on a charge of seduction, was dismissed, as the seduction had been going on about three years. He was then arrested on a charge of battery and will have a hearing before Judge Hutchins.

The arrangements were all completed last evening for the Second District Convention of the Y. P. S. C. E. to be held in the Central Presbyterian Church. The young ladies are at work on the decorations, and it is to be hoped that this Convention will be the best held in the District.

The great reduction in the price of sterling silver ware brings it within the reach of those who heretofore have been obliged to use plated articles. We can show a large stock comprising the latest and best ideas of the most prominent manufacturers.

CONFLAGRATION

Most Disastrous Fire in the History of Indianapolis.

Eastman & Co., the Indiana National Bank and other Big Concerns

Are Heavy Losers. Probably to the Amount of $250,000. The Fire started in Eastman's and Spread With Wonderful Rapidity to Other Property.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 19.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of the Hoosier capital, occurred right in the heart of the business portion of the city Wednesday morning.

At 6:30 a. m. early risers saw flames burst from the general furniture and crockery store of Eastman & Co., on Washington street, and an alarm was hastily turned in. While the engines were rattling and clanging to the scene, the flames had spread with wonderful swiftness, and as the first relay dashed up and coupled the hose to convenient places, it was seen that the fire was one that would require the combined efforts of the entire department to successfully combat. Then a general alarm was sounded.

The double front block occupied by Eastman, Schleicher & Lee, retail furniture and china dealers, was destroyed, together with the entire stock, Loss, $200,000; insurance, $100,000. The Indiana national bank was destroyed, together with all its contents, except the safe and its valuables. These are believed to be intact. The loss on it and contents is probably $100,000, with an insurance of nearly one-half. The Condit block, occupied by the Western Union, the upper floors were destroyed and all the batteries and wires were ruined.

The loss on this building was heavy in dollars and immense in inconvenience to business. The fire leaped from these buildings to the immense six-story stone front occupied by the Pettis Dry Goods Co. The manager feared on the topmost water supply and deluged the building and contents. The building was saved, but the loss from water will be probably $5,000. Between the Pettis building and the bank are landmarks belonging to the Johnson heirs of Philadelphia. These were damaged and the occupants driven out.

The American and United States express offices are in the lower floors of these buildings, and were closed because of the damage. The upper floors of some of the buildings were occupied by lawyers and for offices purposes. Many losses suffered by these will bring the aggregate loss up to nearly three-quarters of a million. The fire was controlled at 9 o'clock, but was still burning in its original area. Several firemen were shocked by electricity by coming in contact with apparatus charging the metallic portions. There were no fatalities.

AT CHICKAMAUGA

The Boys in Blue and Gray Are Arriving in Large Numbers—Dedication of State Monuments to Begin.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Chattanooga extends a burning welcome to her thousands of visitors. The heat is unusual, even for the sunny southland, and natives and visitors alike suffer. Unless there is a change there will be great discomfort in attending the dedication of the park. It is situated some miles from the city and the trip to and from is one of some moment.

Principal events of Wednesday morning were the arrival of Gov. McKinley and party from Knoxville. Wednesday evening the Society of the Army of the Tennessee arrived from Cincinnati on special trains and attended in a body the reunion of the Army of the Cumberland. They will meet Thursday night in reunion with the survivors of the confederate army of the Tennessee. Lookout inn is headquarters for the official visitors. Vice President Stevenson, the members of the congressional committee and many of the governors of the states, and state commissioners are quartered there.

The day preliminary to the formal dedication of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National park was devoted largely to the exercises in connection with the dedication of state monuments erected at various points within the park. Owing to the absence of Secretary Lamont, the monuments were presented in each instance to Gen. Fullerton, president of the National park commission. Michigan led off in this pleasing and patriotic service, the commission occupying for that purpose the platform on Snodgrass Hill, on which the general dedication exercises will take place Thursday. The monuments and markers erected upon the battlefields of Chickamauga, Chattanooga, Missionary Ridge and Orchard Knob were presented to Gov. Biss by Capt. and Ex-Congressman C. E. Belknap, president of the state park commission.

The Ohio dedication followed under direction of Gen. John Beatty, president of the board of commissioners. This was the most elaborate and notable event of the day. Illinois dedicated her monuments at the Widow Glenn's house, which was delivered by Gov. Albigood. Kelly's field was occupied by the Wisconsin people near which stands the monument erected to the first regiment of that state. Hon. Jackson E. Webster, chaplain of the Tenth Wisconsin, opened with prayer. Addresses were made by Gov. W. H. Upham, ex-governor Howard W. Watkins, chairman of the state board, and others.

The exercises attendant upon the transfer of the Indiana monuments to the government took place at Lytle Hill, as the ridge south of the Dyer house is called in memory of Gen. Lytle, who was killed there. It is a short distance north of the Widow Glenn's house. Gen. M. C. Hunter was master of ceremonies.

KENTUCKY NEWS.

MOONSHINERS

Fatally Shot in a Battle With Revenue Officers in Kentucky.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 19.—A battle occurred in Knott county at an early hour Wednesday morning between a party of three revenue officers and James Howard, and a posse of internal revenue officers, led by Deputy U. S. Marshal Ingram. Many shots were fired, but only three persons were hit. The two Howards were mortally wounded and Ingram was shot so bad that he may die. The Howards are among the most desperate moonshiners in eastern Kentucky, and have openly defied the revenue officers for years. Less than a month ago they tried to kill a party of revenue men under Special Agent Collier, of Louisville.

A Lion Roaming in the Mountains.
WITTINGTON, Ky., Sept. 19.—The people in the vicinity of the head of Cumberland river, Cumberland mountains, in this county, are in a terrorized state, and now from the fact that a large lion has been seen a number of times prowling over this mountain, supposed to have recently escaped from some traveling menagerie. County Superintendent of Schools James P. Lewis, while traveling over the mountain, saw the lion Wednesday. A party will be organized to hunt it down and until captured women and children will not venture from their homes.

Hart County's Fair.
MURFESSBORO, Ky., Sept. 19.—The Hart County fair, at Horse Cave, opened with the biggest crowd that ever attended the first day's exhibition. The visitors were from Glasgow, Bowling Green, Elizabethtown, Versailles, Shelbyville and Louisville. This promises to be the most successful fair ever held by the association, both in point of attendance and exhibits.

J. B. Clay Assigns.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 19.—Jas. B. Clay, one of Fayette county's most prominent breeders of thoroughbred horses, made an assignment to Banker J. Will Sayre. The extent of the liabilities and assets is not known. Mr. Clay owned the famous Chance of the Voice and a number of richly-bred brood mares. His farm is known as the Irroquois stud.

Corbin Votes Against Saloons.
CORBIN, Ky., Sept. 19.—After a hot fight with the saloon element the "drys" won by fifteen majority. Whiskey men were out in full force from different points, and had all the free beer and whiskey that could be used. This town has been under local option for eleven years and this is considered a great victory for the opponents of saloons.

Thus J. Smith Can Not Accept.
HARTFORD, Ky., Sept. 19.—Hon. Thomas J. Smith, who was recently nominated for the senate in the Seventh senatorial district, has written A. T. Dorkey, chairman, that he can not accept the nomination owing to business engagements previously made. The chairman will either order another convention soon to put out another candidate.

More Lexington Politics.
LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 19.—Lexington is in another municipal squabble. The city charter provides that but four members of the board of aldermen can be elected, while at the recent primary election eight were declared nominees. It is not known how the trouble will be adjusted.

THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN

WEEKLY PUBLIC LEDGER.

Did U?

Did you ever think that relatives or friends who have moved to distant places—gone West, perhaps, to grow with the country—are always glad to hear from their "Old Kentucky Home?" And did it ever occur to you that a single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN—the weekly edition of The Public Ledger—contains more home news than you could embrace in a hundred ordinary letters? And did it ever strike you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter every week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription to THE REPUBLICAN would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose you try it and hear what they have to say on the subject.
